Olinn, is a contraction of

“All In One”

As a European professional equipment management group, Olinn supports companies’ development strategies by thinking holistically, sustainably and agilely every day.

As a partner to companies and local authorities, Olinn stays committed throughout the entire life cycle of professional equipment and offers solutions that integrate sourcing, financing and related services all the way up to return and refurbishment.

And that’s not all...

Olinn is also the strategic partner to companies, helping them develop their business using leasing offerings and high value-added services in their sales model.

With Olinn, companies balance performance and responsibility by choosing the right technological investment strategies that are rooted in CSR.

Our work? Facilitating yours.

“ Good for profit, for people and for planet. ”

Olinn fosters sustainable growth by helping companies balance business performance with positive social and environmental impacts.

Olinn aims to help companies, help people, and help the environment.

hOw?

- By handling the management of their professional equipment.
- By offering them solutions that integrate sourcing, financing, maintenance, return, and even refurbishment.
- By subscribing them to a CSR approach at the same time.
- By adapting to their constantly changing needs.
- By allowing them to focus all their energy on their core business.

When equipment management becomes that easy, we might say: Olinn, Equipment as a service.

Think lease, not purchase so that you can benefit from systematic reconditioning or recycling of equipement

Create new usages surrounding consumption, use, production and profitability

Rethink equipment’s life cycles

Help everyone take action in their own way

“ Let`s empower companies, our clients, to take action and do the right thing. ”
